JIM BUCK ROSS
COMMISSIONER

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI:

We in agriculture are proud of the quality, variety, and quantity of the food and fiber products of our Mississippi farms and ranches.

In order to survive in these times of high production costs and low returns, operators of agricultural enterprises must develop and use sound management practices. It is especially important to have dependable data on which to base management decisions.

One of the many responsibilities of your Department of Agriculture and Commerce is that of providing these data for Mississippi agriculture. This publication was prepared by the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, combining the cooperative efforts of the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce and the Statistical Reporting Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. This bulletin documents the contributions of Mississippi farmers and ranchers to our economy in 1980-1981.

The ability to make the best decisi[illegible]t the right time often means the difference between profit and loss. I am certain th[illegible]ne of the main ingredients for success in these troubled times is a reliable and current data base. We in the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce remain fully aware that agriculture is the lifeblood of Mississippi's economy. We pledge to continue our efforts to further develop our State's greatest industry.

I appreciate the voluntary cooperation of farmers, ranchers and business people in supplying the information in the bulletin and wish to express my thanks to them.

Respectfully,

Jim Buck Ross

Commissioner

Agriculture is the cornerstone of the economy of Mississippi and the United States. Agriculture, by its consumption of the many inputs of production, and by supplying the food and fiber which must be transported, processed and distributed, creates more jobs than any other industry in our state or nation.

This bulletin summarizes the productive activity of Mississippi agriculture during 1980-81.

I want to extend my thanks to all of the members of the agribusiness community who have graciously taken their time to report to us. Their efforts have made this bulletin possible.

Sincerely,

Dick Knight
